DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10, drawn to an isolated polynucleotide, vector, and host cell, classified in class 435, subclass 252.3.
 - II. Claims 11-21, drawn to a process for the fermentative preparation of L-amino acids, classified in class 435, subclass 106.
 - III. Claims 22-34, drawn to a process for producing L-methionine-containing animal feedstuffs additive, classified in class 435, subclass 113.
 - IV. Claims 35 and 36, drawn to an animal feedstuffs additive, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
 - V. Claims 41 and 43, drawn to a method for detecting a nucleic acid using hybridization probes or primer, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). The products of Groups I and IV are independent chemical entities and require different literature searches.

Inventions of Groups II, III, and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). The methods of Groups II, III, and V are distinct both physically and functionally; require different process steps, reagents, and parameters; and produce different products.

Invention of Group I is unrelated to the processes of Groups II, III, and V. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). Each of the processes of Groups II, III, and V do not require the product of Group I.

Inventions III and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as using chemical synthesis methods to produce the product.

A search of all the inventions in the patent literature and the non-patent literature cannot be made without serious burden because the inventions require separate searches that have different limits, boundaries, scope, and subject matter. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
